

On September 4, 2009, a diverse coalition of stakeholders organized by Az4Solar, and led by the Arizona State Building Construction Trades Council submitted a competitive application for a $5 million Department of Labor grant to support a Green Career Training Program.

The application recognizes the fact that Arizona will produce an increasing amount of energy from sunlight in the coming years, which will create a strong and sustainable demand for jobs to build and maintain this new solar infrastructure.